The answer to this question depends altogether on the motion of the good people of Douglas county, an earnest of which will be shown in the support of our county Fair for 1870, and the material aid we may propose to the State Beard of Agriculture, to secare the Fair for 1871. Good Farming Implements are the basis of success in making the farm pay. Without these, though the soil and climate are favorable, farming in the nineteenth century cannot be made profitable, as the basis of all prices is upon that which can be produced most successfully, with the least labor, in the greatest quantity, on a given amount of land. The first requisite to farm ing is a good Plow, one that will scour readily in all soils, and is made of the best mate rial upon scientific principles based upon the experience of centuries.
